The Honorable Harris Ellsworth
Chairman
United States Civil Service Commission
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Ellsworth:

With your day of departure from Washington drawing near, may I wish you every success and every satisfaction in the work and recreation that you have planned for yourself in Oregon. I also would like to express my sincere appreciation for the helpful and understanding way in which you have dealt with personnel management problems that we have taken up with you.

During your term of office the relations between CIA and the Civil Service Commission have been uniformly cordial. While my staff has necessarily been much preoccupied with internal management, they have drawn closer to the Commission in a stimulating and beneficial exchange of ideas.

With kindest regards.

Sincerely,

Honorable Roger W. Jones
Chairman, United States Civil Service Commission
Washington 25, D. C.

Dear Mr. Jones:

The Director of Central Intelligence has carefully considered Secretary Mitchell's invitation to nominate a candidate for the President's award and has decided that security considerations preclude our making a nomination at this time.

We appreciate being given the opportunity to participate in this program and hope that at some future time we will be in a position to nominate one of our members for this honor.

Very truly yours,
