Honorable Maurice H. Stans
Director
Bureau of the Budget
Washington 25, D. C.

Dear Mr. Stans:

The report on the Mass Transportation Survey of the Washington Region has been reviewed by this Agency from the viewpoint of forthcoming transportation needs to and from the new Headquarters building at Langley.

Experience with past and present transportation problems in the Washington Region has proven that accommodation of transportation needs is of utmost importance to our functions and the recommended system has, therefore, received careful study and examination.

The review has led this Agency to the conclusion that our foreseeable demands for highway and transit facilities have been incorporated within the elements of the recommended system.

Sincerely,
