Dear Van:

card
I received your letter of 14 January regarding [redacted] and have written him asking if he could stop by to see me the next time he is in Washington. I hope that we can straighten this whole matter out when he comes by.

Let me know when you get back from the Coast so that we can have a talk.

Cordially yours,

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

January 14, 1954.

Mr. Allen W. Dulles,
Central Intelligence Agency,
Washington 25, D.C.

Dear Allen:

The brother that we mentioned in our discussion over the phone today is [redacted] and his address is [redacted]. I am sure that if you invited him to drop in to see you the next time he is in Washington that he would do so and that it would accomplish a great deal for him personally by easing his mind of a burden. I don't think it would take you more than a few minutes to do this, and he strikes me as a very nice young chap who is perfectly sincere in his worries.

I am off to the Pacific Coast, and I just got back from SHAPE. Life seem still to be a little hectic, but when I get back from the Coast I will give you a ring and hope we can have a chat about a number of things.

Cordially yours,

V. Bush.
