STAT

Major General Harold R. Aaron has written to Lieutenant General Walters, our Deputy Director, on your behalf.

In addition to speaking highly of you, General Aaron raised the issue of the salary which you might be offered if you are employed by this Agency. As you know, no firm offer has been made to you. If the decision is made to employ you, our Career Training Program Officers would not be able to offer you a grade in excess of GS-09. As you can appreciate, we must make every effort to be equitable in the rate of pay we offer to all of our applicants. To make an exception in your case would not be fair to others whose credentials are similar to yours.

We sincerely appreciate your interest in this organization and will be in touch with you again upon receipt of your updated application forms. We will then make a decision on whether to formally process your application for a position with us as a Career Trainee. Meanwhile, we ask that you keep us apprised of any changes which may affect the status of your application or any changes in your interest in employment with us.

Sincerely,

(Signed) F. W. M. Janney

Dear Dick:

STAT A former [redacted] presently employed with the Continental Can Company, called me today and indicated he was seeking employment with the Central Intelligence Agency. He is STAT still a Reserve officer and assigned to a [redacted] Reserve unit in Connecticut.

STAT I became acquainted with [redacted] while I was DCSI USAREUR and STAT he commanded a field office at the [redacted] He is a very impressive young man--conscientious, dedicated, and highly intelligent. He is making a nice salary with [redacted] but the call of intelligence is a little bit stronger than money. He desires employment with CIA and is being offered a GS-9. If he accepts this his scale of living will take a drop. STAT

I am not urging that he be promoted to a super grade or anything like that but I do feel that you would get a fine individual for your organization if some agreement can be reached on a GS level that he will receive. I am just a little sorry that he is going with you instead of us.

Best regards.

Sincerely,

HAROLD R. AARON
