2. The Debreceni Pamut Fono Gyar (Cotton Spinning Factory of Debrecen - 47 31 N - 21 09 E) makes gas mask carriers.

3. Toward the end of 1954, the Hungarian Army started to use Oppanol for making protective clothing. Oppanol, obtained from the Soviet Union, is worked up into protective clothing by the following firms: (a) Debreceni Pamut Fono Gyar; (b) Szegedi Textil Kombinat (Szeged Textile Combine) of Szeged /46 16 N - 20 09 E/; and (c) Uj Szegedi Kender Fono Gyar (New Szeged Flax Spinning Factory). Uj Szeged is located to the east of Szeged on the east bank of the Tisza River. These plants cut and make Oppanol into protective clothing and use raw (natural) rubber as a binder.

4. Heavy rubber suits have not been used in Hungary since 1954. It is believed that these suits have been given to civil defense units.
