1. Railroad station. There are four railroad lines, three passenger and one freight. Two lines lead to Lodz, one to Poznan and the freight line leads from Ostrov through Kalisz to Lodz. This freight line does not enter the station but passes two kilometers south of it. The station faces Upper Silesia Street on the southwestern edge of the town.
2. Old customs building in the center of Nowy Swiat Street.
3. Barracks for the 25th Field Artillery Regiment. The army took over this building in 1937. Prior to that it was the Infant Jesus Hospital.
4. Another barracks building for the 25th Field Artillery Regiment.
5. This is the town's principal square, called the 11th of November Square. The city hall, which is about 100 x 75 meters, of stone construction with five stories, is erected within this square. On the top floor there is a museum.
6. Main post office. Telephone and telegraph offices are also located in this four-story stone building. Telephone offices are located on the second floor.
7. Old hydroelectric power plant adjacent to the Prosna River. This supplies power to only a few buildings
