This document is hereby regraded to CONFIDENTIAL in accordance with the letter of 16 October 1978 from the Director of Central Intelligence to the Archivist of the United States.

PAGES SUPPLEMENT

1. No barbed wire was observed along the Soviet-Slovak border between Čop and Čierný Prikop. Only posts are marking it. Five hundred yards beyond the border on the Russian side is a white barn with a cupola used as an observation tower manned by guards with field glasses.
2. Slovak police are turning refugees from the Carpatho-Ukraine with improper documents over to the MVD.
3. It is said that on the Russian side the Red Army is running the railroad. No freight was moving across the border during November. The Soviets give overcrowded sidings in the Carpatho-Ukraine as an excuse. According to Slovak railroad officials, this overcrowding is caused by the withdrawal of Red Army troops from Hungary.
