1. Yugoslavia has allotted in its current federal budget for Macedonia financial aid to the Greek opposition groups EAM and ELAS. Material support, such as houses, land and equipment, has been granted to the members of these two groups now in Yugoslav Macedonia. At the same time the establishment of two new villages near Bitolj has been ordered to be completed by late December 1946, and 100 houses have been built at Negotin, southeast of Skoplje, for Greek refugees from the Kalajara area and the Greek village of Rance.
2. The following were elected into office during the November elections in Macedonia: Dr. Boris Spirov, President and Minister for Social Policy; Colonel Lukarevski, First Vice-President; S. Mustafa, Second Vice-President; Vlado Malecki, First Secretary and Director of the Skoplje Radio Station; and Daitar Suli, Second Secretary. These officials are all reported to be actively in favor of an Independent Aegean Macedonia.
3. The following Greek Youth Brigades were activated and reported to be transferred to the Buljkes Camp in Yugoslavia where after a rest period and preparation they will be sent to the Greek border for duty: "Nikos Sakarijades", under the command of Pavladis Juop (sic); "ELAS Assault", under the command of Marvidis Alekseios; and, the "Fifty-Fifth Mine Planters".
4. A staff of young people in Bitolj, Yugoslavia, are maintaining communication lines with Greek Partisan fighters via the Florina and Zagoricani valley route.
