SUPPLEMENT

1. In spite of government assurances that the guerillas are being annihilated and will shortly cease being a problem, [redacted] the winter months 25X1X6 will see a continuation of the fight in the North, barring intervening political solutions. There are no indications yet that the Greek Army is in a position to put an end to the fighting in the North; and there are abundant indications that KKE, feeling a measure of success, will push the fight.
2. Reports have continued through December to indicate that the right-wing is being heavily armed with the latest automatic weapons. [redacted] Mavromachalis is playing an important part in this. [redacted] 25X1X6 Mavromachalis was removed from office because it was found that he had diverted a large number of automatic arms from the Army to right-wing para-military organizations such as "X". In any event, there is every reason to believe that the two political extremes in this country are well armed at the present time.
