SUPPLEMENT

SOURCE

1. The Commission on Investigation of Anti-National Activities, whose existence was supposed to have been terminated, is still operating in offices in the Ministry of Interior, according to an untested source, reporting on 12 April 1947. According to one of the members of the Commission, President Berreta has promised to reestablish the former activities of this group, which concentrated on uncovering fifth column and subversive elements during the war. Meanwhile, certain members continue to keep the files and material in order, and answer occasional requests for information from the secretary of the Ministry.
2. It is hoped that when the Commission is reconstituted, Romeo Botia, formerly deputy to the late Carlos Nogues, will be named Chief of Investigations, with an office in the Headquarters of the Capital Police. In this capacity he will be able to coordinate the activities of the Commission and those of the police.
3. At the present time, in addition to Botia, the work of the Commission is being carried on in the office of a certain Fujol, of the Ministry of Interior, by men named Musso and Wolf.
