1. Chinese Communist political figures in Port Arthur, Dairen, and other areas of the Kuantung Peninsula are secretive and nervous because the Kuomintang authorities have been dispatching from Mukden groups of youths whose mission is to instigate riots and engage in propaganda, assassination, sabotage, and other underground activities. Some public servants of Dairen say that Chinese Communist political authorities live and eat on the premises of their offices. Because CHIH Tzu-hsiang (遲子祥), mayor of Dairen, and CHEN Yun-tao (陳雲濤), vice-mayor, have been afraid to venture from their offices or to attend public functions, rumors have circulated to the effect that they had left the Peninsula. note: See [Redacted] in which it was reported that CHIH and CHEN deserted their posts shortly after the capture of Antung by the Nationalists.
2. A rigid census is being taken in Dairen. Houses are searched every night, and lawless elements find it very difficult to remain in the city.
3. The Chinese Communists have stopped the strike and liquidation movement (Tou Cheng - 鬥爭).
