SOURCE

1. Serban Voinea (Gaston Boeue), former Rumanian Minister to Switzerland and previously a member of the Radaceanu faction of the Rumanian Social Democratic Party, is receiving financial support from Eufemiu Mihaileanu, who is at present in Paris.
2. Under the Antonescu Government Mihaileanu participated in the administration of confiscated Jewish properties. He made large sums from his management of the grain export firm of Halpern Brothers. After the coup d'etat of 23 August 1944, Mihaileanu transacted certain business for the Rumanian Social Democratic Party and is believed to have assisted in financing that political organization. He became a personal friend of Stefan Voitec, at present a member of the Presidium of the Rumanian Popular Republic. He refused an offer of appointment as Minister to Athens, preferring to go to Prague with a commercial delegation in 1946.
3. In 1947 Mihaileanu came to Switzerland with Leopold Filderman, a leader of the Rumanian Social Democrats. He remained in Berne with Serban Voinea and travelled between France and Switzerland as a diplomatic courier, reportedly using these trips for business transactions. Voinea appears to have been displeased by Mihaileanu's travels in the guise of courier.
4. Mihaileanu, who is approximately 45 years of age, is the brother of Alexandru Mihaileanu, a member of the Rumanian Workers Party.

 Comment: Source states that Eufemiu Mihaileanu is not a Jew, contradicting information contained in [REDACTED]. He attended the "Congress of Peoples of Europe, Asia and Africa" held in Paris on 19-22 June 1948, reportedly as a representative of a "group of Rumanian Social Democratic refugees".
