SUPPLEMENT TO REPORT NO.

1. It is probable that the Communist-sponsored Congress for Peace and Democracy will be postponed until May, according to Enrique Ramirez y Ramirez, Secretary of Vicente Lombardo Toledano, and a leader of the Partido Popular.
2. Ramirez corroborated the statements made by another leader of the Partido Popular, Victor Manuel Villaseñor* when he reiterated that almost all the local leftist leaders, especially those connected with the Partido Popular, were devoting all their efforts to preparation for the July elections for federal deputies and had not had any time to give to the organization of the conference.
3. According to Ramirez the following group of well-known persons, many of them world-famous in their respective fields, have made known their willingness to attend the conference if invited to do so:

Ermilo Abreu Gomez, writer and literary critic
 Manuel Alvarez Bravo, photographer
 Honorato de Castro, Spanish, scientific research worker
 Antonio Castro Leal, diplomat, professor, writer, and critic
 Luis Chavez Orozco, writer, historian, and professor
 Gabriel Figueroa, famous motion picture photographer
 Fernando Gamboa, painter and teacher
 Jose Giral, Spanish scientist and statesman of Cuban birth
 Enrique Gonzalez Martinez, poet, physician, and diplomat
 Carlos Graeff, mathematician, astronomer, and physicist
 Andres Henestrosa, professor, writer, and newspaperman
 Jose Iturriaga, literary critic
 Jose Mancisidor, professor and writer
 Manuel Marquez, Spanish, professor of ophthalmology
 Leopoldo Mendez, engraver
 Manuel Mesa Andraca, agronomist
 Jose Clemente Orozco, well-known painter of murals
 Carlos Pellicer, poet, and teacher of history
 Jose Revueltas, novelist
 Alfonso Reyes, writer, literary critic, and diplomat
 Diego Rivera, outstanding Mexican artist
 Wenceslao Roces, Spanish Communist man of letters
 Mariano Ruiz-Funes, Spanish jurist
