REMARKS

RETURN TO CIA LIBRARY

The very small airfield west of DUBRAVKA (P 49/X 89) was being used for glider training by the BRATISLAVA (P 49/X 99) Aero Club. The landing field had a grass cover; a wooden hangar was the only building at the field.

Comment:

The BRATISLAVA-DUBRAVKA airfield was first reported in early June 1947. It is apparently used only by aircraft of the Czechoslovakian Aero Club and has no military significance.
