SUPPLEMENT TO REPORT NO.

1. There are some Chinese in Indonesia who are dissatisfied with both the Chinese Nationalists and Communists. These Chinese may eventually form an opposition group.
2. INJO Beng Goat believes that there is a possibility of such an opposition group developing in Indonesia. In his opinion this group will include many Chinese who are still loyal to CHIANG Kai-shek. He feels they will continue to back CHIANG if he successfully defends Formosa, but will join the opposition if he fails.
3. According to INJO, about 200 Chinese a month are returning to Indonesia from Communist China. Their stories are just beginning to circulate in the Chinese community and most of the accounts are anti-Communist, telling of starvation and bad government.
4. The following influential Chinese have recently shown dissatisfaction with both the Chinese Nationalists and Communists and may in the future become leaders of an opposition group:

- KWEE Bie Sin* Chairman of the Chinese Chamber of Commerce
- TAN Eng (also received Ing) Hok President of the Chinese School at Patekoan, Djakarta
- LIE Kian Kim A lawyer; formerly pro-MAO Tse-tung
- LIE Tjwan Sien Chairman of the Chung Hua Tsing Nien Hui (Chinese Youth Association)
- HIOE Njan Jung* Chairman of the Chung Hui Chung Hui in 1947
