9.	Units of up to 150 soldiers, most of them wearing red-bordered black epaulets with artillery insignia, but some wearing tank insignia, were seen drilling at the sports field in late June 1950.
10.	The engineer units which had been on maneuvers along the Elbe River returned to the barracks on and after 23 June 1950. Only about 15 pontoons, guarded by soldiers wearing black-bordered black epaulets, were 50X1-HUM still laying on the bank of the Elbe River on 1 July 1950. The guards used truck as a guardroom. (1)
12,	An employee of the Rosslau cooperative stores said that the Soviet kommandatura in Zerbst requisitioned the former industrial harbor and the warehouses of the German Armed Forces on the Elbe River on 26 June 1950. The bakery, the warehouses and the administration building used by German offices had to be evacuated by 1 July 1950. Five six-story warehouses, each about 40 x 15 meters, three storage buildings, each about 20 x 8 x 6 meters, and an administration building were in that area. No Soviets had moved in by 1 July 1950.
13.	All three engineer units, commanded by lieutenant colonels, were back 50X1-HUM in their barracks by 25 June 1950.
14.	An engineer general, an engineer colonel and several lieutenant colonels were again seen in the barracks. (9)
15.	It was said that the engineer general was also in command of other engineer units in fotsdam. The engineer units allegedly did not belong to the tank division. (9)
16.	About 200 troops with 10 to 12 tanks returned from field exercises prior to 25 June 1950. (10) 50X1-HUM
17.	A train of fifteen cars carrying bridge building equipment and trucks  seen on the Dessau-Rosslau railroad line on 27 June 1950, heading toward Rosslau. (11)
