1. According to Suri Thongwanit*, former editor of Siang Thai and a prominent Communist supporter, the Chinese Communists will launch an invasion of Thailand in the near future.
2. A meeting of the Chinese Communist underground was held on 28 July 1950 at the offices of the Chuan Min Pao. According to a Chinese Communist employee of the Chin Heng Tai Rice Mill who was in attendance, the gathering was presided over by Choo Lieng Ngung, a prominent Chinese Communist underground committeeman. Many Thai Communists were present at this meeting.
3. The Chinese Communist further states that the following matters were considered at the underground meeting:
 - a. A cooperative plan between Chinese and Thai Communists for sabotage in Thailand.
 - b. An agreement to establish various underground headquarters in the northeastern Thailand provinces.
 - c. The organization of Communist activities in the central Thailand provinces at the labor level among Thai and Chinese.
 - d. The launching of a D-Day sabotage campaign when the Communist armies approach the Thai frontier, or soon after Thailand has been invaded. In this connection, Choo announced that the necessary arms and explosives for sabotage efforts are already in the hands of the underground.
