The onset of the rainy season, preventing vehicle traffic, has produced a serious shortage of medical supplies and clothing in Democratic Republic of Vietnam areas of Cochinchina. Even high-level military officials must be left to be cared for by the civilian population if they are wounded. Wounded DRV officers in the Ben San, Tan Long, Thu Dau Mot area, 50 kilometers from Saigon, are being cared for by the Catholics in the region. Nguyen Van Sang, Deputy Chief of the combined 301-310 Brigades, was among those recently abandoned.
