1. It is alleged [REDACTED] that the Fabrika Zavodi R.R. Nis¹ (Radio and Roentgen Institute), recently received a shipment of machinery from Great Britain. This machinery has already been installed in the plant. Reportedly, the plant has begun production of cathode tubes in accord with the specifications of the model invented by a certain Bulgarian engineer by the name of Kozarcev. Dr. Kozarcev, who is reputedly one of the best Balkan scientists in the radio-radar field, escaped from Bulgaria last year.

2. According to information [REDACTED] in close touch with Zdenko Ulepik,² Commandant of the Yugoslav Air Force, the latter has affirmed that as a result of Dr. Kozarcev's invention all Yugoslav planes will be equipped with domestically produced radar within the current year (sic).

2. [REDACTED] Comment: [REDACTED] in reference to Zdenko Ulepik, Commandant of the Yugoslav Air Force.

3. [REDACTED] Comment: From available information it would appear highly improbable that Yugoslav planes will be furnished with domestic radar during the current year, inasmuch as Yugoslavia is not yet equipped for mass production of radar equipment.
