During August 6,000 civilian laborers were recruited to construct a barbed wire fence around White Cloud Airfield and to dig a trench one meter deep outside the fence. Ten pill boxes are now being built around the airfield perimeter. Five additional searchlights were installed in fixed positions and ten more were mounted on Jeeps for mobility. All the searchlights were made in a Soviet factory named Wei-t'e-su (威特司). Radar is now installed at the south end of the airfield and two soviet technicians are in charge.
