Chinese Communist Efforts to Suppress Nationalist Guerrillas

1. In early August 1951, the Chinese Communist 309 Regiment, 103 Division, which, in late July, was assigned to pursue Nationalist guerrillas who landed on 24 July, returned to its former station at Wenchou.
2. On 29 August a total of six companies, one from each of four independent battalions in the Chingning (119-38, 27-58) and Chinyun (120-03, 28-39) districts and two from an independent battalion in the Ch'ingt'ien (120-17, 28-09) district, were deployed by the Wenchou Military District Command to exterminate stragglers from Nationalist guerilla forces.
3. On 27 August the Wenchou Military District Command instructed Chinese Communist forces in the area northwest of Ch'ingt'ien to forward reports on Nationalist guerrilla activities and captured documents by September 1.
4. On 2 September at Ouchiangk'ou, Nationalist guerrillas on motor junks, commanded by WU Chu-lin (吳樹霖), attacked elements of a guard company of the 4 Military District Command on three armed motor junks. In the ensuing battle one of the three Chinese Communist junks was sunk and another was captured. The Nationalists also killed 60 Chinese Communist troops, and captured 33 Chinese Communists, one 60 mm mortar, three machine guns, and 36 rifles.

Chinese Communist Military Activity in East China

5. On 27 August 2,000 troops of the Wenchow Garrison Brigade, with six heavy machine guns and 4 x 60 mm mortars, left Wenchow for Tungtoushan (122-01, 29-15).
6. The Chinese Communist 10 Public Security Division is now in the Chanpomen (漣 港 門) area near Hangchow. In mid-August they arrived in this area from east Chekiang. The commanding officer is YEH Hou (葉 茂).
7. During August the Chinese Communist authorities turned over a service regiment and a garrison regiment of the Fukien 3 Military District Command and a militia battalion from each hsien in east Fukien to the 87 Division, 29 Army, in that area.
