COUNTRY	بر 00	pproved For Release 2000/05/24/1014 RDP82-00457R00  many (Soviet Zone)  X1A
	المستدي	t Troops in Strausberg
TOPIC	diff	W
EVALUATION		PLACE OBTAINED25X1A
DATE OF
DATE OF T DATE OBT		16 October 1951
1A
REFERENC		I ENCLOSURES (NO. & TYPE)
REMARKS	ceptivities and
CONTRACTOR OF STREET	17 18 17 18 19 18 19 18 19 18 18 19 18 18 18 18 18 18 18 18 18 18 18 18 18
CONTRACTOR	a wasana wa
CONTROL PARTY ARMIN'S CONTROL
5X1X
SOURCE
X1X	,	Between 25 and 27 September 1951, see the Landes-
	T.	jugondhein in Strausberg (N 53/V 15) housed artillery officer schools. Ten captains and senior lieutenants, carrying books and notebooks, were seen captains and senior lieutenants, carrying cooks and notecooks, were seen standing of the door of a garage which sheltered an artillery piece of about ÷	standing at the door of a garage which sheltered an artillery piece of about
25X1C	·	standing at the door of a garage which sheltered an artillery piece of about 80 mm. Twenty other officers received theoretical instruction at the athletic field. Gate guards were red-bordered black epaulets with artillery insignia. All windows of the installation were lighted at nightfall.
25X1C	٠	standing at the door of a garage which sheltered an artillery piece of about 80 mm. Twenty other officers received theoretical instruction at the athletic field. Gate guards were red-bordered black epaulets with artillery insignia. All windows of the installation were lighted at nightfall. was seen entering the billeting area. *
25X1C	2.	standing at the door of a garage which sheltered an artillery place of about 80 cm. Twenty other officers received theoretical instruction at the athletic field. Gate guards were red-bordered black epaulets with artillery insignia. All windows of the installation were lighted at nightfall.  was seen entering the billeting area. *  Two units of about 80 men each and a third unit of about 40 men, led by NCOs,
25X1C	2.	standing at the door of a garage which sheltered an artiflery piece of about 80 mm. Twenty other officers received theoretical instruction at the athletic field. Gate guards were red-bordered black epaulets with artillery insignia. All windows of the installation were lighted at nightfall.  was seen entering the billeting area. *  Two units of about 80 men each and a third unit of about 40 men, led by NCOs, were seen marching from the Infanteric Kaserne to the former Burschenfuersorgeheir on 36 September. The troops were red-bordered black epaulets, including
25X1C	2.	standing at the door of a garage which sheltered an artillery place of about 80 cm. Twenty other officers received theoretical instruction at the athletic field. Gate guards were red-bordered black epaulets with artillery insignia. All windows of the installation were lighted at nightfall.  was seen entering the billeting area. *  Two units of about 80 men each and a third unit of about 40 men, led by NCOs,
25X1C , 25X1C	2.	standing at the door of a garage which sheltered an artillery place of about 80 mm. Twenty other officers received theoretical instruction at the athletic field. Gate guards were red-bordered black epaulets with artillery insignia. All windows of the installation were lighted at nightfall.  was seen entering the billeting area. *  Two units of about 80 men each and a third unit of about 40 men, led by NCOs, were seen marching from the Infanteric Kaserne to the former Burschenfuersorgeheir on 36 September. The troops were red-bordered black epaulets, including
•	2.	standing at the door of a garage which sheltered an artillery place of about 80 mm. Twenty other officers received theoretical instruction at the athletic field. Gate guards were red-bordered black epaulets with artillery insignia. All windows of the installation were lighted at nightfall.  was seen entering the billeting area. *  Two units of about 80 men each and a third unit of about 40 men, led by NCOs, were seen marching from the Infanteric Kaserne to the former Burschenfuersorgeheir on 36 September. The troops were red-bordered black epaulets, including
	2.	standing at the door of a garage which sheltered an artillery place of about 80 mm. Twenty other officers received theoretical instruction at the athletic field. Gate guards were red-bordered black epaulets with artillery insignia. All windows of the installation were lighted at nightfall.  was seen entering the billeting area. *  Two units of about 80 men each and a third unit of about 40 men, led by NCOs, were seen marching from the Infanteric Kaserne to the former Burschenfuersorgeheir on 36 September. The troops were red-bordered black epaulets, including
	2.	standing at the door of a garage which sheltered an artiflery piece of about 80 mm. Twenty other officers received theoretical instruction at the athletic field. Gate guards were red-bordered black epaulets with artillery insignia. All windows of the installation were lighted at nightfall.  was seen entering the billeting area. *  Two units of about 80 men each and a third unit of about 40 men, led by NCOs, were seen marching from the Infanteric Kaserne to the former Burschenfuersorgeheir on 36 September. The troops were red-bordered black epaulets, including
	2.	standing at the door of a garage which sheltered an artiflery piece of about 80 mm. Twenty other officers received theoretical instruction at the athletic field. Gate guards were red-bordered black epaulets with artillery insignia. All windows of the installation were lighted at nightfall.  was seen entering the billeting area. *  Two units of about 80 men each and a third unit of about 40 men, led by NCOs, were seen marching from the Infanteric Kaserne to the former Burschenfuersorgeheir on 36 September. The troops were red-bordered black epaulets, including
•	2.	standing at the door of a garage which sheltered an artillery piece of about 80 mm. Twenty other officers received theoretical instruction at the athletic field. Gate guards were red-bordered black epaulets with artillery insignia. All windows of the installation were lighted at nightfall.  Was seen entering the billeting area. *  Two units of about 80 men each and a third unit of about 40 men, led by NCOs, were seen marching from the Infanteric Kaserne to the former Burschenfuersorgeheim on 26 September. The troops were red-bordered black epaulets, including some with artillery insignia. **
	2.	standing at the door of a garage which sheltered an artillery place of about 80 mm. Twenty other officers received theoretical instruction at the athletic field. Gate guards were red-bordered black epaulets with artillery insignia. All windows of the installation were lighted at nightfall.  Two units of about 80 men each and a third unit of about 40 men, led by NCOs, were seen marching from the Infanteric Kaserne to the former Burschenfuersorgeheim on 26 September. The troops were red-bordered black epaulets, including some with artillery insignia.   Tracument No
•	2.	standing at the door of a garage which sheltered an artillery piece of about 80 mm. Twenty other officers received theoretical instruction at the athletic field. Gate guards were red-bordered black epaulets with artillery insignia. All windows of the installation were lighted at nightfall.  Was seen entering the billeting area. *  Two units of about 80 men each and a third unit of about 40 men, led by NCOs, were seen marching from the Infanteric Kaserne to the former Burschenfuersorgeheir on 26 September. The troops were red-bordered black epaulets, including some with artillery insignia. **
•	2.	standing at the door of a garage which sheltered an artillery place of about 80 mm. Twenty other officers received theoretical instruction at the athletic field. Gate guards were red-bordered black epaulets with artillery insignia. All windows of the installation were lighted at nightfall.  Two units of about 80 men each and a third unit of about 40 men, led by NCOs, were seen marching from the Infanteric Kaserne to the former Burschenfuersorgeheim on 26 September. The troops were red-bordered black epaulets, including some with artillery insignia.   Tracument No
•	2.	standing at the door of a garage which sheltered an artillery piece of about 80 mm. Twenty other officers received theoretical instruction at the athletic field. Gate guards were red-bordered black epaulets with artillery insignia. All windows of the installation were lighted at nightfall.  Two units of about 80 men each and a third unit of about 40 men, led by NCOs, were seen marching from the Infanteric Kaserne to the former Burschenfuersorgeheir on 26 September. The troops were red-bordered black epaulets, including some with artillery insignia.   Document No
	2.	standing at the door of a garage which sheltered an artillery place of about 80 mm. Twenty other officers received theoretical instruction at the athletic field. Gate guards were red-bordered black epaulets with artillery insignia. All windows of the installation were lighted at nightfall.  Two units of about 80 men each and a third unit of about 40 men, led by NCOs, were seen marching from the Infanteric Kaserne to the former Burschenfuersorgeheir on 26 September. The troops were red-bordered black epaulets, including some with artillery insignia.   Document No.  No Change in Class.   Probated of Too TS S.   Too TS S.
	2.	standing at the door of a garage which sheltered an artillery place of about 80 mm. Twenty other officers received theoretical instruction at the athletic field. Gate guards were red-bordered black epaulets with artillery insignia. All windows of the installation were lighted at nightfall.  Two units of about 80 men each and a third unit of about 40 men, led by NCOs, were seen marching from the Infanteric Kaserne to the former Burschenfuersorgeheir on 26 September. The troops were red-bordered black epaulets, including some with artillery insignia.   Document No
	2.	standing at the door of a garage which sheltered an artillery place of about 80 mm. Twenty other officers received theoretical instruction at the athletic field. Gate guards were red-bordered black epaulets with artillery insignia. All windows of the installation were lighted at nightfall.  Two units of about 80 men each and a third unit of about 40 men, led by NCOs, were seen marching from the Infanteric Kaserne to the former Burschenfuersorgeheir on 26 September. The troops were red-bordered black epaulets, including some with artillery insignia.   Document No