1. Four searchlights are located in the vicinity of Arandjelovac, west of the village of Banje. The searchlights are of a recent model, and appear to be approximately 1.5 meters in diameter. Early-warning devices are located at a distance of approximately 150 meters from the searchlights. The crew, which is permanent, is housed in buildings located in the vicinity.
2. Certain military units stationed in Arandjelovac are attached to the searchlight location for training purposes. On maneuvering grounds south of Orasac, soldiers are being trained in the operation of from ten to fifteen searchlights of a German model, and in the use of early-warning devices.
