Two things,

First - my apologies for not getting a couple of copies of the [redacted] Tech Report to you in keeping with earlier promises. I did ask [redacted] my TSCS girl at TSD, [redacted] to please send you two copies on 12 September 1978 rather than wait for the 26 September meeting of TSCS. There is no excuse for not getting them out earlier other than pure oversight and other commitments by all concerned. Let me know if they are not forthcoming.

Second - There is considerable interest building in the Community - stimulated by the NSC CI Working Group - on the security issues [redacted]

[redacted] received this word and passed it to me. He is ready to make an offer of DIA assistance along this line at the next SECOM meeting.

To anticipate NSC tasking and formalize the role of SECOM, would it be appropriate for you or Karl Ackerman to make mention of the fact that SECOM is expected to assist SY in planning/implementing security for the new Embassy? If this has already been done - I can't remember it and can't find anything related to it in the SECOM minutes since Gambino took over the Chair. I know that there was agreement between Vic and Gambino (as D/Security CIA) and that there is agreement between Karl and Gambino to have CIA Security help where needed - but I don't find such agreement at the SECOM level. I think it would be good to formalize the SECOM role. What think you?
