FBID Progress Report for April 1964

GENERAL

1. During April the Cyprus situation was marked by Greek Cypriot efforts to eliminate Turkish-held strongpoints and to open the Nicosia-Kyrenia road to Greek traffic. Repeated outbreaks of fighting in the Kyrenia range brought little change in the overall situation, but tension was particularly increased by Cyprus Government demands that the Turkish Army contingent return to its barracks and by Greek Cypriot threats to use force when the Turks did not do so. U.N. troops found it increasingly difficult to stop the exchanges of fire in the area. Despite the tense and unpredictable situation, however, the Mediterranean Bureau was able to continue uninterrupted operations on the much-reduced scale which has prevailed since the mass transfer of monitors in early February.

Meanwhile, fortunately, total processing of broadcast material has maintained former levels despite the Mediterranean Bureau disruptions. Production reports show that while the Mediterranean Bureau daily wordage has dropped to some 6,000 from the average of 23,000 in the months preceding the coverage transfers, the London Bureau file of 80,000 words included nearly 9,000 words of FBIS Mideast coverage and the Austrian Bureau file of 30,000 words was up some 8,000 words. The only coverage lost completely so far is that of the internal-Soviet TASS service.

Forced evacuation of the Karavas station and resultant loss of the Mediterranean Bureau's remaining coverage remains a threat, however. Permission of the Israeli Government was sought for an interim FBIS monitoring operation in Tel Aviv to maintain coverage of Greek, Turkish and Cypriot broadcasts if it became necessary to evacuate. This request brought a counteroffer from the Israelis to provide a small complement of FBIS translators assigned to the American Embassy in Tel Aviv with tape recordings of broadcasts, a method which would not be wholly satisfactory to FBIS. The Israelis indicated this procedure could be implemented on two days' notice.

The entire Mediterranean Bureau situation will be reviewed in early May during the visit to Cyprus of Mr. Joseph Larocque, Jr., Mr. Roger G. Seely,

2. In line with further contingency planning to meet possible crises in Saigon, contacts were made with VOA officials to determine facilities available in Baguio in the Philippines for emergency relocation of the Saigon Bureau. The VOA people said they could provide operations space, antennas, and equipment and that communications and other facilities would be available in an emergency. There still remains the question of the attitude of the Government of the Philippines. No formal approach will be made to that government at this time.

3. FBIS submitted a memorandum outlining the way it could increase its processing and publication of North Vietnamese press material to eliminate the collection deficiencies noted during preparation of a Special National Intelligence Estimate. The deficiencies were pointed out in a memorandum to the DCI from the Director of Intelligence and Research, Department of State which was quite laudatory of FBIS performance and capabilities. To meet the requirements effectively, FBIS would need two additional Vietnamese translators for press exploitation and an additional Headquarters typist to assure publication of the material.

4. FBIS provided a short history of the Saigon Bureau for inclusion in a report on the Agency's Vietnamese effort since 1950.

5. Weekly analyses of communist propaganda on South Vietnam were instituted recently as an additional FBIS contribution to the Vietnamese effort. These analyses, submitted by the Saigon Bureau Chief in his role of FBIS representative on the Vietnam Mission Reporting Team, are incorporated in a new report prepared for the Vietnam Coordinating Committee.

6. A roundup of reaction to President Johnson's 20 April speech and the decisions to curtail fissionable materials production was disseminated on the FBIS Wire at the request of the DD/I.

7. Rapid FBIS handling of the spurious report on 13 April that Soviet Premier Khrushchev had died evoked a "magnificent job" comment from the OCI Watch Office and expressions of appreciation from other consumers. The London Bureau's initial ZZ-precedence message quoting the West German news agency DPA cleared the FBIS Wire 11 minutes ahead of Reuters and 13 minutes ahead of the Associated Press. DPA's subsequent cautionary "hold" on the item and reports of TASS and Moscow radio behavior dominated the wire for the next 1 hour 42 minutes. DPA's later explanation and cancellation of the item cleared the FBIS wire 12 minutes ahead of Reuters and nearly 2 hours ahead of A.P. The Wire was deluged with phone calls from the White House, the Department of State, the OCI Watch Office, and analysts asking for verification of the report.

SUBJECT: FBID Progress Report for April 1964

8. The Brazilian Government crisis beginning 1 April which culminated in the overthrow of President Goulart produced another well-coordinated FBIS coverage effort extending over several days. The West Coast and Panama Bureaus shared the major task of monitoring Brazilian broadcast stations, the East Coast Bureau filed from some voice broadcasts and a large volume of press intercepts, and the Key West and East Coast Bureaus shared the coverage of extensive Cuban radio and Prensa Latina reaction to the Brazilian situation. FBIS Wire Service wordage on 1 April exceeded 36,000 words, due largely to the Brazilian monitoring effort.

9. FBIS reporting on the 19 April Laotian rightwing coup ran more than an hour ahead of Reuters and Associated Press dispatches. The Saigon Bureau's first ZZ-precedence message confirming coup reports cleared the FBIS Wire 78 minutes ahead of Reuters and 80 minutes ahead of the A.P. Followup coverage by Saigon and the Okinawa Bureau provided comprehensive reportage on the various communiques and decrees issued by the military revolutionary committee.

10. A special report prepared at the request of the Assistant to the DD/I for Policy Support and issued as a special memorandum on 2 April described UAR radio and press treatment of U.S. and British policies and leaders during March 1964. The report was transmitted by the Office of the DD/I to the White House, the Department of State, and other interested consumers. It was also wirefiled to various U.S. Embassies in the Mideast.

11. FBIS successfully fulfilled a White House request for fast handling of the text of the 24 April Cuban note to the United Nations to meet the needs of the President and Ambassador Adlai Stevenson. The White House also requested that FBIS provide the text of President de Gaulle's press conference on 16 April, which was broadcast at 1400 local time, prior to President Johnson's own press conference at 1630. This deadline was missed by two minutes, but salient passages were supplied from AFP coverage. Congressional requests included a roundup of statements by Khrushchev during his visit to Hungary for Senator Fulbright, the text of a Pravda article attacking the Joint Economic Committee and Senator Douglas for the Senator, and information on Cuban broadcasting for Congressman Fascell of Florida.

12. The Army Security Agency at the Defense Intelligence Agency complex at Arlington Hall became the 35th recipient of the FBIS Wire Service.

13. Regular services initiated include: a) filing to the U.N. Command in Korea all Chinese Communist, North Korean, and Moscow items concerning Korea; b) providing the U.K. High Commissioner in Cyprus with all Cyprus items; and c) adding Maj. Gen. Roland del Mar, Director of the Inter-American Defense College, as a Latin America Daily Report subscriber. Other services included: a) filing of Soviet comment on the new Iranian

SUBJECT: FBID Progress Report for April 1964

Government and the U.S.-Iranian joint military maneuvers to the U.S. Embassy in Teheran; and b) providing a tape recording of the Chinese Communist national anthem to the Columbia Broadcasting System.

14. Still pictures taken of East Berlin television programs by the German Bureau were enthusiastically received by consumers, and some of the pictures were immediately incorporated into reports. To help meet the increasing interest in such coverage, the German Bureau procured a second still-picture camera and conducted a survey with the cooperation of the Federal German Government for alternate sites which might provide better television reception. The survey did not turn up better reception areas.

15. FBIS assisted VOA in the selection of a frequency for a high-powered medium-wave transmitter installation in South Vietnam. The station, to be located near Hue, will be used to broadcast to North Vietnam.

16. The Soviet May Day slogans were analyzed in Radio Propaganda Report CD. 244, and a propaganda analysis item on the Wire discussed aspects of Havana propaganda following Castro's statements on U.S. overflights in his 19 April speech.

17. A 73-page USSR/EE Daily Report supplement published on 6 April contained the report to the 14 February CPSU Central Committee plenum by Secretary Suslov outlining the CPSU's basic positions in the Sino-Soviet polemic.

18. In April 88 percent of the Daily Report was devoted to broadcast materials and 12 percent to press scrutiny.

19. Twenty-one percent of the items appearing in the OCI Digest were based wholly or in part on material supplied by FBIS.

20. A revised system of coordinating press scrutiny with the Foreign Documents Division/OCR was instituted to reduce duplication in publication. Under the new procedure, press scrutiny material processed by the Austrian Bureau is logged and FBIS handling noted. Items not published by FBIS are attached to the log and passed on to FDD for review and possible use.

21. Coverage coordination for Cuban broadcasts was expanded to include the Panama Bureau. When circumstances require it, Cuban coverage will be divided between the East Coast, Key West, and Panama Bureaus, with ECB acting as central coordinator.

22. FBIS representatives participated in discussions at the end of April on automated procedures planned by FDD to determine their applicability to FBIS needs. The FDD system, which will be developed by IBM over the next two years, envisions automatic translation from Russian to English through use of stenographs, computers, and high-speed printers. FBIS would use the IBM equipment for conversion of regular copy into steno-writer code for automatic "translation" and high-speed offset mat printout as a means of reducing the time required to produce the mats to print the Daily Report. FBIS will continue to follow the progress of the system, but initially it appears highly unlikely that it would increase FBIS efficiency.

23. There were significant changes in Soviet broadcasting patterns. Coincident with its switch to a spring-summer schedule at the end of the month, Moscow reduced broadcasting time in many European languages and in English to North America and increased broadcasts in Hindi, Nepali, Korean, and Mongolian. FBIS is covering the increased broadcasts except for those in Nepali, in which it has no capability. For the first time Moscow began broadcasting in Malayalam and in Zulu. Neither FBIS nor the BBC has capability in these languages. Earlier in the month Moscow increased its transmissions in Mandarin 3 1/2 hours daily. FBIS is covering the new program. It was also noted that a Khabarovsk-originated program in Spanish for Latin America was not parallel with Moscow broadcasts. The content of these broadcasts is being checked. It was discovered in early April that after a five-year lapse Tashkent had reintroduced programs in Uighur in its international service. The two 30-minute daily programs apparently are radiated on beamed antennas for good reception in China's Sinkiang Province. FBIS has no capability in this language.

24. To meet the strong interest of <sup>DDP/</sup>EEF and OCI in the content of the new Moscow Uighur-language broadcasts, FBIS supplied tape recordings for review by [redacted]. Similar arrangements were made for reviewing recordings of the Zulu broadcasts made by the BBC in Nairobi.

25. The Deputy Chief, FBIS, [redacted] returned to Washington in mid-April following a six-week trip through the Far East. In addition to his inspection of the West Coast, Tokyo, Hokkaido, Okinawa, and Saigon Bureaus, [redacted] talked with U.S. officials in Hawaii and Hong Kong.

26. [redacted] was escorted on a visit to [redacted] and oriented in FBIS Headquarters on 14 April. The Mediterranean Bureau was visited by Ambassador Fraser Wilkins, Ambassador-designate Taylor G. Belcher, and Assistant Secretary of State Dwight J. Porter. The Okinawa Bureau was visited by Lt. Col. Walter Hettlinger, Assistant J-3 (Psychological Operations), U.N. Command, and Maj. R. D. Renick, C.O. Korea Dept. USABVAPAC. [redacted]

FACILITIES

27. A ruling was received from DCA lifting the <sup>link encryption</sup> requirement for tributary stations served by Autodin switches. The same ruling defined FBIS indigenous-manned tributaries as U.S.-controlled outlets and therefore entitled to automatic interface with the Autodin switches. The lifting of the link encryption requirement from FBIS removes the need within coming years for large outlays for equipment and large increases in American communications personnel at field bureaus.

28. It was reconfirmed with ASA that FBIS wished to relocate its Hokkaido Bureau in [redacted] and the Chief of the Tokyo Bureau was asked to institute action to get approval from the Japanese Government. It is hoped that the Japan Defense Agency will intercede on FBIS' behalf to avoid prolonged negotiations, which ASA estimated might require two or three years.

29. FBIS accepted a DCA offer to provide a full duplex 60-word-per-minute circuit between Frankfurt and London. Although FBIS originally requested a 100-WPM circuit, the DCA offer is entirely acceptable because of the advantages it will offer over the present arrangement. As soon as the circuit is operative, FBIS will be able to eliminate its LWD circuit through Saran, France, and effect savings of some $12,000 a year.

30. [redacted] departed at the end of April to carry out area surveys and reception tests in Puerto Rico and Montevideo, Uruguay. Both men will survey the Mayaguez area of Puerto Rico for a monitoring site, after which [redacted] will go on to Montevideo alone at the end of May for tests to round out the planning base for Latin America coverage.

50X1

31. FBIS has begun investigation in conjunction with Department of State and Office of Communication representatives into an offer by Press Wireless, Ltd. to furnish New York-London cable service at a substantially lower rate than is charged by Western Union.

32. The Okinawa Bureau's housing remodeling project was completed during the month. This project involved conversion of two four-man BOQ's into four-bedroom family houses and replacement of windows in four three-bedroom houses. Initial planning is now underway for replacing windows in operations buildings at Solo Point. The Panama Bureau is well along in planning for remodeling its operations building.

ADMINISTRATION

33. On the basis of an action memorandum from the Executive Director-Comptroller, the DD/I imposed a foreign national ceiling on FBIS of [redacted] positions. This is the first such ceiling on FBIS foreign nationals, and while it will not affect FBIS operations at the present time, it may well cause difficulties in the future because of constantly expanding world broadcasting.

50X1

34. During the month of April one employee entered on duty, one transferred, and none separated. The on duty strength as of 30 April was [redacted] including two employees on Leave Without Pay. There were eight professionals and five clericals in process during the month.

50X1

35. A report was submitted to the AD/O outlining the areas in which FBIS could use FY-1964 year-end funds.

36. The salaries of Okinawa, Hokkaido, and Austrian Bureau third nationals were increased approximately 10 percent in April.

37. For the convenience of staff employees overseas, it was arranged for travel advances to be made at overseas bureaus.

38. The American Embassy in Vienna informed the Austrian Bureau it was extremely unlikely that FBIS staff personnel assigned to the bureau in the future would be able to obtain government housing. This makes it advisable for employees assigned to the bureau to ship their household effects, since adequately furnished houses are very scarce.

39. In order to conform fully with Agency regulations, FBIS adopted the classification control marking "For Official Use Only" to replace "Official Use Only." The Daily Report and the Wire have begun using the new control marking and other FBIS components will switch over fully as soon as present stocks of preprinted forms are used up.
