Dear Mr. Brito:

We have no information to indicate that the International Federation of Library Associations and Institutions (IFLA) is a Communist Front organization. Neither could we find any derogatory information on any of its six officers listed in the 1981 Yearbook of International Organizations. However, though the majority of its affiliates are from non-Communist countries, it does have members from Albania, North Korea, Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Hungary, Poland, Romania, the USSR, and Yugoslavia. It is presumably for that reason that its yearly Council meetings are sometimes held in Eastern Europe; e.g., Budapest in 1972, Strbske Pleso (Czechoslovakia) in 1978, and Leipzig in 1981.

Sincerely,

/s/ William J. Casey
