This report concerns only some aspects of French experience with power reactors as chosen from the original aspects, and does not attempt to cover the entire proposed subject. It is certain that the progressive installation, beginning this year, of the EDF1, the EDF2, and the EDF3 plants will provide considerable information and will offer answers to the technical and economical hypotheses posed. The present experience enables the French to view this new phase optimistically.
