Mr. Helms

Recommend your signature on the attached letter to the Vice President requesting him to attend and make a few brief remarks to our Sixth Annual Awards Ceremony on 19 September 1966. If the invitation is accepted, I will see that appropriate arrangements are made for the visit. We have suggested in the letter that the Vice President join you in an informal luncheon following the Ceremony.

Dear Mr. Vice President:

On 19 September 1966 we will hold the Sixth Annual Awards Ceremony of the Central Intelligence Agency. These ceremonies, conducted on the anniversary of the establishment of the Agency, are the occasion for presenting certificates to employees who have completed ten and fifteen years of service with the Agency. They are also the occasion for recognizing those Agency employees who have been nominated for Public Service Awards during the year and those who have received other awards. The program is scheduled to begin at noon and will take only about thirty minutes.

It would indeed be an honor if you could join us on this occasion. Your presence would give added meaning to the ceremony, and we would certainly appreciate your making a few brief remarks. If your time permits, I should like to entertain you at a small, informal luncheon after the ceremony.

I do hope that you will be able to participate.

Respectfully yours,

Dear Mr. Vice President:

On 19 September 1966, we will hold the Sixth Annual Awards Ceremony of the Central Intelligence Agency. These ceremonies, conducted on the anniversary of the establishment of the Agency, are the occasion for presenting length of service certificates to employees who have completed ten and fifteen years of service with the Agency. They are also the occasion for recognition to Agency employees who have been nominated for Public Service Awards during the year and those who have received other awards.

It would indeed be an honor if you could join us on this occasion. The program is scheduled to begin at noon and will take only about thirty minutes. Your presence alone would give added meaning to the ceremony and I hope that you would be willing to make a few brief remarks. It would be a great privilege if you could also find the time to join me in an informal luncheon after the ceremony.

Would you let me know if your calendar will permit you to join us. I will be glad to provide any additional information that you may wish.

Respectfully yours,
