Dear Mr. Iams:

On Wednesday, 24 January 1973, [redacted] of your organization presented a seminar to the officers and key civilians of the Concepts Analysis Agency. The general subject area was the management of mass data and I am pleased to report that your team was outstanding in covering a difficult subject in a short time using lay explanations for a most complex system. I wish to personally thank you for your support in arranging the seminar and hope you will again pass on my thanks to your team for a job well done.

It appears we have reason to interface with you in the areas of data management, data files and graphic vector terminal programing therefore, it is my hope that we maintain a continuing relationship for the exchange of information and techniques.

You will note our name has changed as has our commander since I last spoke to you. Our new Commanding General, BG Hal E. Hallgren, expressed a desire to see your facilities after hearing of your plant and capabilities during the seminar. I hope to contact you in the near future about such a visit.

Again, thank you for your cooperation and support.

Sincerely,

DAVID D. BROWN
