2. Admiral Murphy had just returned from a visit to the Bahamas and Florida and was anxious to proceed with the Washington end of his "Task Force". Admiral Murphy explained that we are in the middle of a national emergency, focused in South Florida, and that 80% of the U.S. supply of cocaine enters the U.S. via South Florida. He wanted a clear statement of the problem, then a development of procedures which will attack the problem. He wanted each agency to explain what was needed and he would go to the Vice President to see that these needs were met.
