Harry:

Just thought you would like to see the thank you note we received from with the invitation for you and/or others to visit their headquarters.

I have sent a copy of this to to see whether he or any member of his Office would find it productive to pay them a visit. If so, I would like to have two of my people go along also. It might be a good opportunity to gain indepth knowledge about optical storage capabilities and the products which has to offer.
