PROPOSED DCID 3/1 (FORMER DCID 15/1)

PRODUCTION AND COORDINATION OF FOREIGN ECONOMIC INTELLIGENCE

Pursuant to the provisions of NSCID Nos. 1 and 3, and for the purposes of strengthening the overall governmental intelligence structure and insuring the effective production and coordination of foreign economic intelligence relating to the national security, the following policies and operating procedures are hereby established:

1. Policies,

In carrying out their foreign economic intelligence activities and responsibilities, and in order to effect appropriate coordination in the production and exchange of foreign economic intelligence, the interested departments and agencies shall apply the following basic principles:

a. No complete separation of interests is possible or necessarily desirable in economic intelligence activities.

b. Full and free interchange of all pertinent information, finished intelligence, and schedules of research programs, including external research, among interested departments and agencies is essential.

c. No one department or agency is considered to be the indisputable authority in any field.

CONFIDENTIAL

CONFIDENTIAL

d. Each department or agency, taking full cognizance of the facilities of the other agencies, shall maintain adequate economic intelligence research facilities to accomplish its departmental intelligence production mission and to provide such additional economic intelligence within its field of primary responsibilities as may be necessary to satisfy other requirements relating to the national security. Any department or agency may make such studies as it believes necessary to supplement the intelligence produced by other departments and agencies. However, basic research studies should not normally be undertaken or disseminated outside the producing agency without consultation with the department or agency having primary responsibility for the subject matter involved.

e. The IAC component of each department or agency having Technical Services or other facilities with intelligence production capabilities shall endeavor to coordinate the intelligence activities of such service or facilities with the work of the IAC agencies and to make available to those agencies the intelligence produced by such Services and facilities.

2. Allocation of Primary Production Responsibilities.

a. The following division of interests shall serve as a general delineation of primary responsibilities for the production of economic intelligence of common concern:

CONFIDENTIAL

CONFIDENTIAL

(1) Production of military-economic intelligence on all foreign countries, including by way of illustration intelligence on military requirements, military materiel production, shipbuilding and ship movements, logistic capabilities, and particular aspects of economic strength or weakness directly related to military capabilities, is the responsibility of the Departments of Army, Navy, and Air Force.

(2) Production of intelligence on all foreign countries on political and social aspects of economic organizations and institutions such as trade unions, and on the relationships between political and economic policies, is the responsibility of the Department of State.

(3) Production of all economic intelligence on the Sino-Soviet Bloc¹ is the responsibility of the Central Intelligence Agency except as indicated herein. In addition, it will supplement the intelligence produced by other agencies by conducting such analyses and studies as may be necessary to produce integrated economic intelligence on the Bloc.

1. As used herein, "Sino-Soviet Bloc" includes USSR, Communist China, North Korea, North Vietnam, Albania, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Poland, Rumania, and Soviet-occupied portions of Germany.

CONFIDENTIAL

CONFIDENTIAL

(4) Production of all economic intelligence on foreign countries outside the Sino-Soviet Bloc is the responsibility of the Department of State except as indicated in paragraph 2 a (1).

b. Despite the above-mentioned allocations of primary production responsibilities, there are areas of common or overlapping interest (including, for example, Sino-Soviet Bloc economic policies and doctrines, economic cost studies of Bloc military programs, East-West trade, Sino-Soviet Bloc economic activities in non-Bloc areas, and transportation) which require continuing interagency liaison and cooperation.

c. The existing allocations of production responsibility for National Intelligence Surveys (NIS) are not changed by this directive even though such allocations may, in some instances, be at variance with department or agency responsibilities specified in paragraph 2 a. However, the EIC may, on occasion, examine such allocations and make appropriate recommendations to the NIS Committee.

3. Responsibility for Economic Intelligence Coordination.

a. To assist the Director of Central Intelligence in carrying out his responsibilities with respect to coordination, the Economic Intelligence Committee (EIC) of the IAC shall:

CONFIDENTIAL

CONFIDENTIAL

(1) Review from time to time the divisions of responsibility indicated herein, determining how the provisions of this directive apply, particularly in areas of common or overlapping interest, and recommending to the IAC appropriate changes in these divisions of responsibility.

(2) Periodically survey the facilities and arrangements available to support the production of foreign economic intelligence relating to the national security and make recommendations to the IAC concerning such improvements as may require IAC action.

(3) In order to minimize the duplication of effort and expense: prepare and circulate consolidated periodic lists of intelligence studies and related research being conducted within the Government on the economies of foreign areas; and review external research projects individually involving more than $5,000 and sponsored by departments or agencies in support of economic intelligence production. Departments and agencies shall submit descriptions of the scope of such projects to the EIC and the EIC shall endeavor to present its recommendations in advance of final approval by the contracting department or agency. In its periodic reports to the IAC, the EIC shall include a summary of actions on these projects.

(4) Review the needs for economic research and analysis pertaining to foreign areas and of importance to the national security, and develop ways in which recognized deficiencies could be corrected.

(5) Make such special reviews of economic intelligence collection requirements and of the distribution and processing of economic intelligence information as may appear useful, and develop ways in which improvements could be made.

(6) Ensure that, on intelligence matters affecting the national security, the intelligence community is supported by the full economic knowledge and technical talent available in the Government.

(7) Produce, as appropriate, interdepartmental economic intelligence on subjects which transcend the competency of a single department or agency. Arrange, as appropriate, for the coordination of individual IAC agency reports deemed of sufficient national security importance to warrant the solicitation of concurrences from the representatives of other IAC agencies.

CONFIDENTIAL

CONFIDENTIAL

b. The Central Intelligence Agency and the intelligence components of the Departments of State, Army, Navy, and Air Force, and of the Joint Staff (JCS) shall each furnish one member and an alternate to the EIC. Any other department or agency whose interest or competence may be relevant to problems under consideration may also be invited to participate in the work of the EIC. The representative from the Central Intelligence Agency shall serve as Chairman, and the Central Intelligence Agency shall provide the Secretariat.

c. In carrying out its responsibilities, the EIC shall set up such subcommittees and working groups as may be judged necessary.

d. Any matter may be referred to the IAC at the request of any member department or agency.

4. DCID 15/1 is herewith rescinded.

PROPOSED DCID 3/2 ON FACTORY MARKINGS INTELLIGENCE

Pursuant to the provisions of NSCID Nos. 1, 2 and 3, and for the purpose of insuring the effective exploitation of factory markings* as a source for foreign economic and technical intelligence relating to the national security, the following policies, responsibilities and operating procedures are hereby recognized and established:

1. Policies

To insure that the capabilities of the IAC departments and agencies are effectively utilized for the collection, processing, and production of factory markings intelligence, the following basic principles shall apply:

- a. No complete separation of interests is possible or necessarily desirable in factory markings intelligence activities.
- b. Certain factory markings intelligence functions, because of the nature and volume of the data involved, can be best performed centrally for the maximum benefit of the intelligence community.

*Factory markings are defined as the numbers, letters, geometric forms, and other symbols placed on manufactured products or in their accompanying documents (such as logbooks and acceptance certificates) in the course of manufacture and inspection for purposes of identification and control.

c. To promote an integration of effort and to avoid undesirable duplication, a coordinated, interdepartmental approach to factory markings collection shall be encouraged.

d. Full and free interchange of all pertinent factory markings information and intelligence among the departments and agencies concerned is essential.

e. The IAC component of each department or agency shall endeavor to coordinate those activities of the Technical Services and other facilities within its parent organization which bear on factory markings intelligence with the over-all factory markings intelligence effort.

2. Centralized Responsibilities

a. The Central Intelligence Agency shall administer a Joint Factory Markings Center as a service of common concern. The Staff of this Center shall perform the following functions:

(1) Maintain a consolidated central file of factory markings data for the use of the entire intelligence community.

(2) Develop and maintain codes, indexes, and mechanized systems necessary to facilitate efficient recovery, selection, and collation of available data.

2. Mission

The mission of the committee shall be to promote means by which the intelligence community can make optimal use of information of intelligence value however recorded.

3. Functions

(a) To recommend policy to the IAC in the field of documentation.

(b) To conduct surveys required to support the mission of the committee, subject to agreement by departments and agencies concerned.

(c) To coordinate the development of compatible systems for documentation and the processing of information.

DIRECTOR OF CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE DIRECTIVE NO. 1/4
COMMITTEE ON DOCUMENTATION

Pursuant to paragraph 16, National Security Council Directive No. 1, dated _____, existing statutes and Presidential policy, and to ensure maximum utilization of intelligence, intelligence information and other information which has utility for intelligence purposes, a standing committee of the Intelligence Advisory Committee on documentation shall be established.

1. Preamble

The field of documentation and information processing constitutes an essential link between activities which collect information and those which produce or receive finished intelligence. Important problems face the intelligence community as a result of increasing volumes of information collected and of rising costs. In our efforts to gain full and ready access to and use of information which has come into our possession we must therefore be mindful of the need to avoid unnecessary duplication, increase efficiency and contain overall costs.

2. Name

The committee shall be known as the Committee on Documentation of the IAC.

3. Mission

The basic mission of the committee shall be to facilitate optimal utilization by the intelligence community of information of intelligence value however recorded.

4. Functions

The functions of the committee shall include:

- (a) To recommend policy in the field of documentation.*
- (b) To conduct surveys required to discharge the mission of the committee.
- (c) To coordinate the development of compatible systems for documentation and the processing of information.
- (d) To monitor the operation of reference facilities and make recommendations to the IAC with respect thereto.
- (e) To exchange information within the intelligence community on the solution of documentation problems, including studies, researches, contracts, proposed agreements and actions, publications, seminars, and demonstrations.
- (f) To monitor interagency agreements in the field of the committee's responsibility.

* Documentation is defined as the group of techniques necessary for the orderly presentation, organization and communication of recorded specialized knowledge, in order to give maximum accessibility and utility to the information contained.

(g) To assist member agencies in solving problems arising from programs or projects underway and of mutual interest.

(h) To promote access by members of the intelligence community to intelligence and information.

(i) To coordinate selected documentation activities with foreign intelligence services with which the interchange of information has been authorized by the IAC.

5. Composition and Organization

The committee shall include representatives of the IAC agencies. Other agencies of the Government may be invited to participate as appropriate. Representatives shall be authorized to speak for their respective agencies on policy matters related to the committee's functions. The CIA member will chair the committee and will provide the secretariat.

The committee may at its discretion organize subcommittees to assist it in discharging its responsibilities. Membership on subcommittees need not be limited to member agencies of the committee but may be extended by association under the provisions of NSCID No. 1, para. 2, footnote.

6. Reports

The committee will report to the IAC annually and as directed, and may also do so on its own initiative.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE INTELLIGENCE ADVISORY COMMITTEE

SUBJECT: Elimination of Present DCID No. 1/1, "Procedures for the Intelligence Advisory Committee," 5 March 1948

1. The present DCID No. 1/1 has been reviewed within CIA to determine whether it is necessary to incorporate the substance of this directive in a new DCID now that the NSC has approved a revision of NSCID No. 1. The conclusions reached (in which the Director of Central Intelligence concurred) was that this DCID should be eliminated.

2. The present DCID No. 1/1 undoubtedly served a useful purpose during the period when the procedures of the IAC and the Secretariat were still developing. However, it is believed that the various matters intended to be covered by that DCID either need no longer be spelled out in a formal document or are adequately covered in the new revised NSCID No. 1.

3. Unless requested by a member to do so, we do not propose to place this question on the agenda of an IAC meeting. Consequently, we would appreciate receiving your telephonic concurrence in the Director's view that no attempt be made to incorporate the substance of the present DCID No. 1/1 in a new revised DCID. Please advise the IAC Secretariat of your concurrence or non-concurrence no later than noon Monday, 31 March.

Review of National Security Council Intelligence Directives and Director of Central Intelligence Directives

Reference: IAC-D-105/17 dated 15 October 1957, IAC-M-311 dated 15 October 1957

1. As agreed by the IAC on 15 October 1957, the attached DCID on Domestic Exploitation is submitted for IAC review concurrently with the IAC's consideration of the entire package of revised NSCIDs (except for NSCID No. 9).

2. This draft DCID was developed in the Domestic Exploitation Committee, and reviewed by the Ad Hoc Committee on NSCIDs which agreed to several further changes. Action on this paper is scheduled for the meeting of 21 January 1958, where it will be considered in connection with NSCID No. 2, paragraph 7.
