Dear

STAT

As per our conversation on the phone, the Washington Semester Program would like to put in an early request for a briefing session for the Fall Semester. It is our desire to schedule a morning session at CIA Headquarters for Friday, September 3 or alternatively, Friday September 10.

As in the past, we will be arriving in two buses. There will be approximately one hundred and ten students and two faculty members. In light of CIA requirements, we will provide a list of participating students and faculty. Such a listing will not be available until early August.

We intend to schedule back to back briefings at the Agency and the Pentagon. As such, a 10:30 a.m. briefing lasting approximately one hour to one hour and fifteen minutes would be desirable. I will be in contact with you later in the summer to make further arrangements, if such a session should prove feasible.

Once again, thank you for your assistance and cooperation.

Sincerely,

Dear [Redacted]

Thank you for your recent invitation requesting a representative from the Central Intelligence Agency to speak at your forum on "ethical problems encountered in various professions."

I am sorry but we have no one available to accommodate your request at this time. It is sometimes possible, however, for us to present briefings to small groups of interested students here at CIA Headquarters. We would certainly entertain the notion of such a visit from students of Swarthmore. If you plan to come to Washington anytime in the near future and are interested in a briefing, please contact this office and we will try to schedule one for your school.

Best wishes for a successful forum. Thank you again for thinking of us.

Sincerely,

Dear [Redacted]

Your understanding of the visit by you and your students to the Central Intelligence Agency on 19 April is in line with my own. I have been able to secure the Agency's senior briefing officer to introduce your group to the mission and organization of the Agency and the Assistant National Intelligence Officer for Latin America will discuss Cuba's foreign relations. I regret that I was unable to work in a tour of our operations center but security simply would not allow uncleared individuals to visit the center. In all honesty, unless one held a security clearance, a tour of the operations center would be of little value anyway.

We shall expect you to arrive shortly before 10:00 a.m. by private vehicle at the CIA entrance off Route 123. As you drive west on Memorial Parkway, exit onto Route 123 south and watch for the CIA entrance on your right. After checking in at the guard post, please drive on to the main entrance of the building where another guard will tell you where to park. I would hope to meet you on the steps to Headquarters Building.

I am looking forward to greeting you and your students on 19 April and I trust your visit with us will be both informative and pleasant.

Sincerely yours,

MEMORANDUM FOR: Chief, Public Affairs Division/External Affairs
Coordinator of Academic Affairs/External Affairs

SUBJECT : Briefing of Academic Group

For the past several years I have briefed a graduate seminar in American foreign policy taught by a friend at Colgate University on the organization and functions of American intelligence. This is done on an unclassified basis. I have been asked to do it again this year and have scheduled it for Monday, 18 January, at 2:00 p.m. in Room 7D32 at Headquarters. I will make the appropriate arrangements with Security.
