Dear [Redacted]

STAT

Please express our appreciation to [Redacted] your Coordinator of Academic Affairs, for his efforts insuring our successful visit to the Central Intelligence Agency. Thirty-six Air War College students and faculty members visited the CIA on October 19, to observe firsthand the intelligence role in the national security policy process. [Redacted] arranged speakers and other support which met our needs in a superb manner. We appreciate his personal interest and the results he achieved.

STAT

We are also appreciative of the speakers [Redacted] arranged. Please express my special thank you to Mr. Harold Ford of the National Intelligence Center, Mr. [Redacted] of the Intelligence Directorate and of course [Redacted] the Executive Director, for taking the time to address the Air War College group. Their presentations both enriched and reinforced the students' understanding of the role of the CIA.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Executive Director

FROM: Director, Office of External Affairs

SUBJECT: Briefing of Students from Air War College on 19 October 1982

1. There will be approximately 30 students and 5 members of the administrative staff of the Air War College in attendance for your briefing between 11-12 a.m. on 19 October in Room 1E74. The highest ranking member of the group will be Ambassador Maurice Bean, the State Department Advisor to the Air University. The remainder of the group will consist of colonels, lieutenant colonels and their civilian equivalents.

2. Members of the group, all of whom are cleared through TOP SECRET, will have been briefed, prior to their departure from Maxwell, by [redacted] the CIA Representative to the Air War College, on the activities and organizational structure of the Agency. Prior to your presentation on the 19th, [redacted] SOVA/DDI, will speak on Soviet foreign policy and Hal Ford will brief on the estimative process.

STAT

3. In discussing the visit with the Coordinator for Academic Affairs, [redacted] the faculty trip manager suggested the following points for discussion:

STAT

- a. How you view the past, present and future of the Agency,
- b. CIA's relationship to consumers, both in the Executive and Legislative Branches of Government, and
- c. The impact on the Agency and its operation of changes in administrations in Washington.

Another possibility would be the Agency's relationship with the various oversight bodies.

4. From past experiences and from conversations about this trip, we believe this group will be a receptive one for those presenting the briefings, i.e., generally friendly to the concept of a role for CIA, not acquainted, however, by experience with the Agency's role, but desirous of learning more about what we do.

[Redacted]

Director of Training and Education
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington DC 20505

Dear [Redacted]

The Air War College sponsors several different field trips each year to provide students a firsthand view of the subject areas studied. The most popular field trip this year, judging by the student response, is the Washington DC trip managed by our National Security Affairs Department. One of the highlights of the trip is a visit to the Central Intelligence Agency, providing us a close-up view of the CIA's role in the national security policy process. Once again we ask your assistance in making that visit most beneficial.

The Washington field trip is scheduled for 18 through 21 October 1982. We would like to visit the CIA on the morning of 19 October. [Redacted] the CIA representative to the Air War College, has been of great assistance in preparing for this visit. He has been in contact with [Redacted] the Coordinator of Academic Relations to discuss speakers appropriate to the interests of the AWC Class. The cooperative efforts of your action officer and [Redacted] should insure that their visit is highly productive.

The Air War College group making the visit will consist of approximately 30 students and 5 members of the college administration. All are US citizens and possess Top Secret clearances. The senior member of the group will be Ambassador Maurice D. Bean, the State Department Advisor to the Air University Commander. The remainder of the group will consist of colonels, lieutenant colonels and civilian equivalents.

Lieutenant Colonel Philip O'Neill, the faculty trip manager, is available to coordinate plans as required. He may be reached at (205) 293-2130 or 293-2103.

In the past, the Washington field trip has been a valuable element in the Air War College curriculum. I am certain the trip this October will enrich our students. Thank you for your support.

Sincerely

51
