Thank you very much for arranging our trip to the Central Intelligence Agency. Your assistance and cooperation was instrumental in allowing our group to visit the agency. We sincerely appreciate the assistance you and your office gave us both before and during our visit. Let me say that all the speakers were very interesting and informative, and all those who attended were very impressed. I was sorry we had such a small turnout, but those who did attend mentioned that they got a lot out of the presentations.

Again, thank you very much for your assistance and cooperation. We thoroughly enjoyed our visit.

Sincerely yours,

I am [redacted] at James Madison University.
We are planning a field trip to Washington sometime in March and would like to request a briefing at the Central Intelligence Agency. I contacted [redacted] [redacted] about this matter last week and he suggested that I write you and give a description of our organization.

We have tentatively set our field trip for either Friday, March 19, 1982, or Friday, March 26, 1982. Our group will include approximately fifteen students and two faculty sponsors. So far our trip includes a visit to the Pentagon where we will visit a professor from James Madison University who is now employed by the Pentagon. We would also like to visit the Central Intelligence Agency in order to get a better understanding of a federal agency.

If you feel that such a visit would be feasible on either of the dates I have mentioned please contact me. If the dates I mentioned are not suitable please feel free to offer alternative ones. Your assistance in this matter will be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely yours,

I am responding to your letter dated 23 February 1982 and enclosing your request for a list of the students and faculty members who will be participating in the briefing, along with their social security numbers and requirement of U.S. citizenship.

We will be leaving the university at 6:30 am., March 19, in a white James Madison University van with Virginia license plates. We should be arriving in plenty of time for our 9:30 briefing with the Agency briefing officer.

We look forward to our visit with you and thank you for your help and support.

Sincerely yours,

Dear [Redacted]

STAT

Your letter of February 10, 1982, regarding a possible briefing at the Central Intelligence Agency, was passed to me by [Redacted]. I have also been in contact with [Redacted] who gave me additional information about your group.

STAT

The Deputy Director of our Agency has approved a proposal to brief the [Redacted] on March 19, 1982. Our plans call for the briefing to commence at 9:30 a.m. and to be completed by 11:00 a.m. A senior Agency briefing officer has agreed to meet with you for that period, to "introduce" you to our organization and its functions, and to answer questions that might arise.

STAT

I shall need from you, at the earliest opportunity, a list of the students and faculty members who will be participating in the briefing, along with their social security numbers. This information is required of all visitors to Agency grounds. An additional requirement is that all visitors must possess U.S. citizenship. You should also provide me with information about the vehicle, or vehicles, that will be bringing your group to our Headquarters so that the guards may be alerted and pass you through their post promptly.

If our proposal for a morning briefing on the 19th of March is acceptable to you, I shall expect to meet you at the main entrance to the CIA Headquarters Building in Langley (off Route 123) at 9:30 on that date. If you need to contact me for any reason, please call [Redacted]

STAT

I look forward to greeting you and I believe that the briefing will be informative and useful to you and the other members [Redacted]
