Dear Mr. Casey,

I write to request consideration for a permanent, full time position with the Central Intelligence Agency. I recently received a letter from my grandmother, [Redacted] and in response to your suggestion I am enclosing my resume. Thank you for helping me to explore my interests in the CIA.

STAT

This May I will graduate from the College of the Holy Cross in Worcester, Massachusetts with a bachelor's degree in biology. From a young age I have been fascinated by the intelligence field. My experiences studying abroad rekindled this interest as well as my desire to serve my country.

A dedicated pre-medical student for my first two years of college, I left to study in France with uncertainties about my career choice beginning to surface. While learning a great deal about life in Western Europe the most important lesson was how fortunate I am to be an American. Along with this sentiment came a realization of the great power which our country possess and especially of the responsibilities which are attendant to this power. For me this responsibility is a very real one. Accordingly, I have determined to pursue a career enabling me to live up to this responsibility. I can think of no better way to apply my patriotism, my education, and my interests than by pursuing a career with the CIA.

I very much appreciate your time and again thank you for your consideration. I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

[Redacted Signature]
