Thank you for your letter of 14 March 1984 to Mr. William Casey concerning [redacted] who is interested in employment with this Agency.

Our Director of Personnel advises me that [redacted] was interviewed on 15 March 1984. Unfortunately, after carefully reviewing her qualifications and test results, she was advised that we were unable to identify an appropriate position for her. Let me assure you that our inability to offer [redacted] employment is not a reflection on her background and experience but simply the result of the competitive review process whereby our managers must select the most qualified applicants for the few jobs they have open.
