NPIC NOTICE
NO. 1-3

ORGANIZATION
10 September 1969

NPIC HISTORICAL COLLECTION

1. This notice establishes the NPIC Historical Collection, effective 2 September 1969. This collection, consisting of information, documents and memorabilia of all classifications relating to the history of the Center, will be housed in the NPIC Library in a special room set aside for that purpose. Physical control of the materials is vested in the Chief, Research and Reference Division, Production Services Group.

2. The NPIC Historical Officer is named Curator of the collection. Components and individuals will make available to the Center for possible incorporation in the collection all materials of potential historical significance. These materials will be screened by the Curator. Those deemed suitable will be accepted and become a part of the collection. Those briefing aids previously selected by the Director, NPIC, as having some historical significance will serve as the nucleus for the NPIC Historical Collection.

3. Library services, such as classifying and cataloguing materials in the collection as well as support in researching and exploiting the holdings, will be supplied by the Research and Reference Division, PSG. It will be the immediate responsibility of the Chief, Reference Services Section, Information Branch, R&RD, to ensure that these services are provided.

4. Access to the Historical Collection for those properly cleared and having a serious purpose in consulting it can be arranged through the Curator or the Chief, Information Branch, R&RD. The collection will not be open for casual inspection.
