

ARTICLE APPEARED
ON PAGE A-8

THE WASHINGTON POST
19 April 1978

Around
The Nation

School Sues CIA

NEW YORK — Columbia University's student newspaper, the Columbia Daily Spectator, is suing the CIA to obtain information on alleged agency-sponsored mind-control studies at the school. The suit, seeking information on all past and present "contractual arrangements and personnel relationships" between the CIA and Columbia, was filed under the Freedom of Information Act.