Columbia Is Told Of CIA Experiments

NEW YORK (AP) — Columbia University said yesterday it has been informed by the CIA it was involved in "mind control" research in the 1950s and is launching an investigation into which staff members took part in the project.

A university spokesman said any such projects were initiated and sponsored by the CIA, and the university had no prior knowledge that the intelligence agency was working on "mind control."

The CIA has disclosed that some 80 institutions were used for the experiments into behavior-altering drugs, including LSD, over a period of at least two decades.
