

WHAT NOW FOR THE CIA?

Approved For Release 2004/10/13 : CIA-RDP88-01315R000300100018-2

HBS Club Reception at CIA Headquarters-Langley, Va.
September 25, 1975
6:30PM Cocktail Buffet
7:30PM address by
William E. Colby
Director of the Central Intelligence Agency

-The price of freedom is eternal vigilance-some may agree and others challenge but William E. Colby is willing to discuss the issues candidly on Thursday September 25, 1975 at CIA headquarters in Langley, Virginia. Mr. Colby will report on the recent Congressional hearings and describe the future role he envisions for the CIA. Four senior staff members will discuss their divisional responsibilities and there will be ample time for questions.

It seems the HBS Club reception at the CIA-a cocktail buffet catered by the CIA's own staff-is a first. ~~The only large group meetings for outsiders previously held at Langley were press briefings.~~ To show our appreciation, all members and guests are asked to cooperate in observing very minimal security requirements- NO CAMERAS-NO TAPE RECORDERS-NO NOTEBOOKS, PENS OR PENCILS DURING SPEAKERS REMARKS.

Because a security check will be run on all who attend, we have agreed to get our reservation list to the CIA by September 18th. There is a limit on the number of people the CIA can accommodate so get your reservations in early. No telephone reservations can be accepted for this event from sponsors, sustainers or regular members and we will not be able to accept reservations received in the HBS Club office after 5PM on September 17th.

Cost for the evening is $8.00 per person which includes a light buffet and open bar. Please fill out the enclosed reservation form completely if you wish to attend.
