

15 OCT 1970

Vanished
P-Huntley, Chet
P-Knebel, Fletcher

Chet Huntley joins actors for TV drama

Chet Huntley, former NBC News commentator, has been signed to make his dramatic film debut in the four-hour dramatization of Fletcher Knebel's best-selling novel, "Vanished," which NBC-TV will colorcast this season on two adjoining nights.

Huntley joins two other broadcast journalists and an array of stars in this Universal TV production dealing with the mysterious disappearance of a top Presidential adviser.

Huntley, cast as a Washington talk show host, joins NBC News commentator Herb Kaplow and WTOP newsman Martin Agronsky, who play themselves.

Stars, previously announced, are Richard Widmark, E. G. Marshall, Robert Hooks, Robert Young, Eleanor Parker, Larry Hagman, Tom Bosley and Arthur Hill.