Dear [Redacted]

STAT

Thank you for your letter of July 3 and for your continued interest in working with CIA. I'm told that, due to shifting analytical priorities and budget cuts, the office with which you've been working does not plan to renew its contract when it expires next month. Other offices also appear to have no interest at this time.

Should our plans and requirements change, you can be assured that we will consider future contract proposals from your organization.

Sincerely,

[Redacted Signature]

SUBJECT: Program on Information Resources Policy

STAT

OGI currently has a contract with this group which is scheduled to end later this month.  does work in the "information policy" area -- mainly research, with most of the work being related to US efforts and policy in this arena.

STAT

OGI was contacted by  and informed them that they did not plan to renew the contract; hence  is trying a backdoor approach to have funding continued without interruption.

STAT

The decision not to continue funding this effort by OGI results from OGI's no longer doing any work in this area, as well as a management decision that in an era of budget cuts the monies could better be spent on higher priority intelligence issues
