I am sure that it would be interesting to listen to George Carver's views again, but the officer I would like to send really should not be seen up front in a public meeting like this. I therefore think we should forgo this opportunity this time.

Dear Bill,

Many thanks for your gracious 19 December note.

As outlined in the enclosed brochure, I am to be the speaker at the International Club's January "International Dialogue" luncheon on Friday, 17 January, where I will address the subject of "Spies, Counter-spies and Defectors". You are, of course, most cordially invited to attend -- as my guest and the Club's.

This affair will begin at 12:00 noon (on 17 January) with a reception in the Mediterranean Room on the third floor of 1800 K Street. Lunch, my talk, and a Q and A Session will then follow, with the whole affair ending -- per tradition -- no later than 2:00pm (sharp). Should you be free and wish to do so, both the Club and I would be delighted if you could be present. If you yourself can not come, as may easily be the case, please feel free to send a representative or observer should you care to do so.

I hope you had a splendid Christmas and holiday season and that this New Year of 1986 proves happy and successful for you, in every way.

With, as always, warmest regards,

Sincerely,

George A. Garver, Jr.
