Honorable William J. Casey

Dear Bill:

This is in reply to your recent letter concerning a seminar on unauthorized disclosure of classified information to the media.

I agree that a seminar such as you described would help delineate the problem of leaks in the Government involving intelligence sources and methods. You may be assured of the support of the Department of Defense in providing panel members on subjects within our competence.

Sincerely,

The Honorable Casper W. Weinberger
The Secretary of Defense
Washington, D.C. 20301

Dear Cap:

Your letter of 14 November commenting on the Unauthorized Disclosure Analysis Center's Summary was most encouraging. As you know, the publication's purpose is to stimulate the interest and action of senior officials regarding the "leak" problem. Your hope that we can resolve more of these cases is fervently shared.

25X1

The effectiveness of the Unauthorized Disclosure Summary as a baseline on the anti-leak effort would be greatly enhanced by specific input from DoD and others on the numbers of investigations of unauthorized disclosure of classified intelligence and the disposition of such cases. I agree fully with your observation that coordinated efforts will help shut down leaks and identify the culprits.

25X1

The UDAC has had under consideration for some time a seminar on unauthorized disclosures. It is envisioned as a forum for leak investigators, security officers, legal counsel, public affairs officers and others concerned with revelations of classified information in the media. Specific sessions on the various facets of the problem would facilitate an exchange of information and perhaps the development of new and unified courses of action to alleviate classified leaks. Because the vigorous participation of the Department of Defense would be invaluable to such a program, I would appreciate your views before proceeding.

25X1

Yours,

WJ Casey
