MEMORANDUM FOR: Critical Intelligence Problems Committee (CIPC)

FROM: [Redacted]
Executive Secretary

25X1

SUBJECT: Minutes of the First CIPC Meeting, 21 March 1983,
1400-1545 Hours (U)

Minutes of the Meeting

The Director, Intelligence Community Staff, RADM E. A. Burkhalter, opened the meeting by welcoming everyone. He emphasized the importance which he and Miss Eloise R. Page, DD/ICS, placed on the Committee and the opportunities before it. He continued, observing that he views the Committee as key in implementing a new direction for the IC Staff by making it a vehicle for community coordination, particularly on vital issues. He advised the members that he had selected some of the IC's best staff officers to provide the Committee with efficient and effective staff support. Furthermore, he pointed out to the members that it was their Committee and it should be utilized and tested to the fullest. He closed noting that the success of the Committee depends upon their active participation in it. Miss Page seconded RADM Burkhalter's remarks. [Redacted]

25X1

The Chairman, [Redacted] stated that he was looking forward to chairing the Committee. He noted that the CIPC Staff stands ready to support the Committee. The Chairman also stated that he would welcome any recommendations for future agenda items and that he intended to keep his promise to each member to hold meaningful meetings, limited to key issues, and structured in such a way to utilize their time effectively. [Redacted]

International Illicit Narcotics Production and Trafficking

The Chairman pointed out that the purpose of this briefing was to bring all members to the same level of understanding on this problem. He acknowledged that some of the members probably had a better understanding than others; however, he surmised that this probably would be the first time they had received a comprehensive presentation on the overall narcotics intelligence problem. [redacted]

25X1

[redacted] also reported that a Narcotics Working Group had been established under the auspices of the CIPC and that they had convened their first meeting on 18 March under the chairmanship of Mr. Jon Wiant, State/INR. [redacted]

25X1

Miss Page noted that the narcotics problem had been referred to her when she assumed her present duties; however, with the creation of the CIPC she thought the problem was appropriate for CIPC action. Miss Page also informed the members that she had opened the Working Group meeting on 18 March. She charged them to look at the narcotics problem in the broadest way possible and to include in their Terms of Reference (TOR) the aspects of coordination, dissemination, overt and clandestine collection, research, analysis, production and support to the operational law enforcement agencies. She also stressed that the Group was chartered not only to prepare recommendations, but also to follow implementation of solutions as they were developed and promulgated. [redacted]

25X1

RADM Burkhalter noted that the subject of narcotics is one of the top issues before the Congress today and that the various Congressional committees are quite concerned over narcotics trafficking. [redacted]

25X1

[redacted] CIPC Staff, briefed the Committee on the narcotics intelligence problem, identifying the principal organizations involved in this issue, providing a background perspective, identifying the roles and responsibilities of various organizations as stated in Executive Order 12333. He focussed in some detail on key and critical issues that needed to be addressed by the Working Group and the Committee. [redacted]

25X1

The Chairman pointed out that the Working Group is in the process of developing their Terms of Reference. He welcomed members' comments or recommendations on the key issues so they could be included in the TOR. [redacted]

25X1

Miss Page and MGEN Marks noted that adequate funding does not appear to have been provided for activities associated with narcotics intelligence. Consequently the subject is having to compete with other equally high priority issues. Because of this budgetary situation, managers are faced with what appears to be large resource constraints in dealing with the narcotics problem. [redacted]

DIRECTOR OF CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE DIRECTIVE
CRITICAL INTELLIGENCE PROBLEMS COMMITTEE
(Effective _____)

Pursuant to the provisions of Section 102, the National Security Act of 1947, and Executive Order 12333, there is established a Critical Intelligence Problems Committee.

1. Mission

The mission of the Critical Intelligence Problems Committee (CIPC) is to examine those critical intelligence problems that are referred to the Committee by the Director of Central Intelligence or the Deputy Director of Central Intelligence and to recommend specific remedies, including the restructuring of collection, processing, and production efforts within existing resources, or through new initiatives requiring reprogramming or supplemental funding actions.

2. Functions

Under the general guidance of the Deputy Director of Central Intelligence, the Committee will conduct timely, in-depth examinations of specific critical intelligence problems to identify:

- a. the specific intelligence requirements and shortfalls associated with the critical intelligence problem under review;
- b. current and programmed collection, processing, and production resources directed against the critical intelligence problem;
- c. options for adjustments in collection, processing, and production efforts which could be accomplished within existing resources, and the associated impact such adjustments would have on the Intelligence Community's ability to respond to other priority intelligence needs; and
- d. recommendations for new initiatives which could increase collection, processing, and production efforts against the critical intelligence problem, noting which options would require reprogramming or supplemental funding actions.

3. Responsibilities of the Intelligence Community

Upon request of the Committee Chairman, Intelligence Community components shall, within established security safeguards, provide information or materials pertinent to the Committee's mission and functions.

Intelligence Community components will identify critical intelligence problems for consideration by the DCI or DDCI and possible referral to the Critical Intelligence Problems Committee via the Director, Intelligence Community Staff.

4. Composition and Organization

The Committee Chairman will be appointed by the Director of Central Intelligence.

The Committee shall be comprised of representatives designated by Intelligence Community principals.

With the approval of the DCI, the Committee Chairman may invite representatives of other U.S. Government entities with national security interests to participate as appropriate.

The Committee will be supported by an Executive Secretariat and a small permanent staff provided by the Intelligence Community Staff.

William J. Casey
Director of Central Intelligence

The Director of Central Intelligence

Critical Intelligence Problems Committee

MISSION AND FUNCTIONS

The Critical Intelligence Problems Committee (CIPC) is organized as a standing senior interagency committee for the purpose of focusing Intelligence Community attention and expertise on high-interest, cross-disciplinary intelligence problems. The Committee is supported by an Executive Secretariat and a small permanent staff provided by the Intelligence Community Staff.

Mission

The mission of the CIPC is to examine critical intelligence problems that are referred to the Committee by the DCI and DDCI and provide timely assessments and specific recommendations for improvements in the overall performance of NFIP systems, activities and programs, to include collection, processing, production, reporting, dissemination and analysis.

Functions

Under the general guidance of the DDCI and D/ICS, the Committee will conduct timely, in-depth examinations of specific critical intelligence problems to identify:

- the specific intelligence requirements and shortfalls associated with the critical intelligence problem under review;
- current and programmed resources directed against the critical intelligence problem;
- options for adjustments which could be accomplished within existing and/or programmed resources, and the associated impact such adjustments would have on the Intelligence Community's ability to respond to other priority intelligence needs; and
- recommendations for new initiatives which could increase Community efforts and resources against the critical intelligence problem, noting which options would require reprogramming or supplemental funding actions.
