- Revisions to the initial draft terms of reference (TOR), as proposed by DIA and the Chairman of the newly-constituted Working Group (WG), were prepared by the CIPC project officer. The effect of the proposed revisions roughly doubles the scope of the Working Group inquiry to include three new subject areas:

- All members of the WG have been personally contacted by the CIPC project officer except the Navy and Marine Corps representatives who are both on TDY. Two changes in the membership have been noted: The CIA representative, [] will be replaced by the assistant to the NIO/EA, [] pending his recovery from a sudden illness. [] a substantive expert on the PRC, will join the NSA representative, [] as an alternate member.

- The inaugural meeting of the WG is set for 1000-1200 hours, 4 October, at [] All members and alternates plan to attend. Three items will be introduced at that time: (1) the DIA-proposed expanded TOR; (2) a draft outline elaborating on the methodological approach specified in the TOR; and (3) a bibliography including some dozen and a half related studies, reports and estimates. Members will be asked to produce coordinated agency responses to items (1) and (2) and recommend additions to item (3). A second meeting of the WG has been scheduled for 17 October, at which time group consensus will be sought on appropriate changes, if any, to the currently approved TOR and the draft outline. WG recommendations will be forwarded to CIPC principals for approval.

- With the administrative details of the WG's establishment beginning to gel, the next planning task will be the division of substantive responsibilities among the membership. Given the breadth of the subjects to be addressed, or without the DIA-proposed expansion, sound organization of the subgroups is deemed essential to the success of the project.
