DCID 3/15-1

DIRECTOR OF CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE DIRECTIVE 3/15

FOREIGN LANGUAGE COMMITTEE

(Effective 5 March 1982)

Pursuant to the provisions of Section 102 of the National Security Act of 1947 and Executive Order 12333, there is established a Foreign Language Committee.

1. Mission

The mission of the Foreign Language Committee is to serve as the focal point within the Intelligence Community, and between the Intelligence Community and other elements of the United States Government, for all matters dealing with recruitment, training, and retention of personnel with requisite foreign language expertise to serve the needs of the Community.

2. Functions

Under the general guidance of the Deputy Director of Central Intelligence, the Committee will:

- a. apprise the DCI of the effectiveness of programs to recruit, train, and retain personnel with adequate foreign language competence for elements of the Intelligence Community;
- b. recommend to the DCI new initiatives to be undertaken to ensure the continuing availability within the Intelligence Community of requisite foreign language competence;
- c. coordinate replies to all queries from Congressional committees concerning the Community's overall foreign language competence;
- d. represent the Intelligence Community's interests in programs sponsored by other United States Government agencies and departments outside the Intelligence Community to improve foreign language studies in the nation's schools and universities;
- e. monitor approaches to the academic community for the training of Intelligence Community personnel in foreign languages to reduce unnecessary duplication and ensure that these programs serve Community as well as individual agency interests; and
- f. perform such other tasks as the DCI or DDCI may direct.

3. Responsibilities of the Intelligence Community

Intelligence Community components will keep the Committee Chairman advised of initiatives designed to facilitate the recruitment, training, and retention of personnel with foreign language competence and collateral skills.

Individual Intelligence Community components will retain the responsibility for conducting their own language training programs.

DIRECTOR OF CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE DIRECTIVE 3/13TECHNOLOGY TRANSFER INTELLIGENCE COMMITTEE

(Effective 3 December 1981)

Pursuant to the provisions of Section 102 of the National Security Act of 1947 and Executive Order 12333, there is established a Technology Transfer Intelligence Committee.

1. Mission

The mission of the Technology Transfer Intelligence Committee (TTIC) is to serve as the focal point within the Intelligence Community on all technology transfer issues. The Committee will coordinate Community activities and will be the principal source of intelligence support for those U.S. Government entities charged with the responsibility for policy and action on technology transfer issues. The Committee will work with other Intelligence Community committees and appropriate agencies to ensure that intelligence information collected on technology transfer is consistent with the DCI's priorities and guidance and meets the needs of Community production organizations.

2. Definitions

Technology transfer encompasses all movements of advanced U.S. and equivalent Western technology and equipment with implications for U.S. security by enhancing the military and economic capabilities of recipient countries.

Technology transfer intelligence includes the collection, processing, analysis, production and dissemination activities of the Intelligence Community designed to support U.S. Government departments and agencies with policy and enforcement responsibilities.

Exchange programs and commercial contacts include all exchanges and visits by nationals from designated foreign countries which provide the potential for an intelligence or technological gain or loss.

3. Functions

Under the general guidance of the Deputy Director of Central Intelligence, the Committee will:

- a. advise the DCI on the effectiveness of the Intelligence Community's role in support of U.S. Government policy on technology transfer issues;
- b. as directed, prepare coordinated intelligence assessments on the significance of technology transfers and, as appropriate, their implications for U.S. national security;
- c. advise appropriate U.S. Government departments and agencies of the technology transfer implications and foreign intelligence equities involved in exchange programs and commercial contacts with nationals from designated foreign countries and recommend changes as appropriate;
- d. provide foreign intelligence support on export control issues to appropriate U.S. Government agencies;

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

DCID 3/13-2

- e. monitor all technology transfer intelligence concerning foreign efforts to acquire U.S. and Western technology and provide appropriate analyses to U.S. Government organizations concerned with protection and countermeasures, including counter-intelligence organizations;
- f. provide priority guidance to collection systems on technology transfer issues; and
- g. establish an exchange of information with all departments and agencies concerned with the technology transfer problem to ensure that the utility of the Intelligence Community's activities is maintained.

4. Responsibilities of the Intelligence Community

- a. On request of the Committee Chairman, Intelligence Community elements shall, within established security safeguards, provide information pertinent to the Committee's mission and functions.
- b. Intelligence Community components will keep the Committee Chairman advised of their specific foreign intelligence equities and of actions which might provide foreign intelligence collection opportunities.

5. Composition and Organization

The Committee Chairman will be appointed by the Director of Central Intelligence.

The members of the Committee will be representatives designated by the National Foreign Intelligence Council principals.

The Committee on Exchanges (COMEX) will be a subcommittee of the TTIC.

Other subcommittees will be established as required.

With the approval of the DCI, the Committee Chairman may invite representatives of relevant U.S. Government entities with national security interests to participate as appropriate.

The Committee will be supported by an Executive Secretariat.

DIRECTOR OF CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE DIRECTIVE 3/8¹CRITICAL INTELLIGENCE PROBLEMS COMMITTEE

(Effective 6 April 1983)

Pursuant to the provisions of Section 102 of the National Security Act of 1947, and Executive Order 12333, there is established a Critical Intelligence Problems Committee.

1. Mission

The mission of the Critical Intelligence Problems Committee (CIPC) is to examine those critical intelligence problems that are referred to the Committee by the Director of Central Intelligence or the Deputy Director of Central Intelligence and to recommend specific remedies, including the restructuring of collection, processing, and production efforts within existing resources, or through new initiatives requiring reprogramming or supplemental funding actions.

2. Functions

Under the general guidance of the Deputy Director of Central Intelligence, the Committee will conduct timely, in-depth examinations of specific critical intelligence problems to identify:

- a. the specific intelligence requirements and shortfalls associated with the critical intelligence problem under review;
- b. current and programmed collection, processing, and production resources directed against the critical intelligence problem;
- c. options for adjustments in collection, processing, and production efforts which could be accomplished within existing resources, and the associated impact such adjustments would have on the Intelligence Community's ability to respond to other priority intelligence needs; and
- d. recommendations for new initiatives which could increase collection, processing, and production efforts against the critical intelligence problem, noting which options would require reprogramming or supplemental funding actions.

3. Responsibilities of the Intelligence Community

Upon request of the Committee Chairman, Intelligence Community components shall, within established security safeguards, provide information or materials pertinent to the Committee's mission and functions.

Intelligence Community components will identify critical intelligence problems for consideration by the DCI or DDCI and possible referral to the Critical Intelligence Problems Committee, via the Director, Intelligence Community Staff.

4. Composition and Organization

The Committee Chairman will be appointed by the Director of Central Intelligence.

The Committee shall be comprised of representatives designated by Intelligence Community principals.

¹ This directive supersedes the DCI directive on this subject, dated 24 February 1982.

(Updated January 1987)DIRECTOR OF CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE DIRECTIVE 3/14¹*INFORMATION HANDLING COMMITTEE

(Effective 4 May 1982)

Pursuant to the provisions of Section 102 of the National Security Act of 1947 and Executive Order 12333, an Information Handling Committee (IHC) is hereby established.

1. Mission

The Committee will advise the Director of Central Intelligence (DCI) on the establishment of common objectives for Intelligence Community information handling and coordinate the achievement of these objectives through improvement and integration of Intelligence Community information handling systems.

2. Definition

Information handling includes the functions of receipt of information from collection sources, dissemination, transformation, indexing, categorization, storage, retrieval and presentation, automatic data processing, telecommunications, and teleprocessing related thereto.

3. Functions

Under the general guidance of the Deputy Director of Central Intelligence, the Committee will:

- a. formulate and recommend to the DCI policies and programs for the establishment of an Intelligence Community information handling system;
- b. monitor and coordinate implementation of plans and programs approved by the DCI;
- c. recommend to the Intelligence Community improvements in methods and facilities for information handling that will eliminate unwarranted duplication of files;
- d. develop and promulgate within the Intelligence Community standards, procedures, and formats for the representation of information to facilitate its exchange among Intelligence Community components and establish procedures to promote Intelligence Community compliance with applicable Federal Government data standardization programs;²
- e. monitor and report on research and development efforts in the scientific, academic, and industrial communities in information science to ensure optimum use of this research by the Intelligence Community;
- f. identify Intelligence Community research and development needs and promote interagency exchanges of information and cooperation in research and development of information processing;
- g. in coordination with the DCI SCI Forum³, ensure that the security aspects of information handling systems are given appropriate consideration; and
- h. promote the establishment of education and training programs in information science.

¹ This directive supersedes DCIDs 1/4 and 1/15, effective 18 May 1976.
