1. I understand that Senator Helms and his staff were pleased with the Community's recent response to their questions on Competitive Analysis. I would add, rightly so. The answers were direct, relevant, and fulsome.

2. Much of the credit for the success of the project should go to [REDACTED] of your staff, who coordinated the Community effort. I think he did an excellent job in blending the responses from both within and without the Agency into a comprehensive and impressive package.

3. Since PES is often called upon to find out what went wrong, I am happy to have this opportunity to identify when something went right and to commend the officer who played an important role.
