MEMORANDUM FOR: Deputy Director for Administration

25X1
FROM:

[Redacted]
Director of Communications

SUBJECT: Weekly Report

1. The Director of Communications participated in the eighth meeting of the National Security Telecommunications Advisory Committee (NSTAC) which was held at the Kennedy Space Center on 5-6 November. Dr. Graham, the President's Advisor and Director of the Office of Science and Technology Policy, substituted for Mr. Carlucci as the President's representative at the business session on Friday. NSTAC, which is comprised of the country's most senior communications officers from the private sector, invite members of the National Communications System, Committee of Principals, to meet with them at these regularly scheduled meetings.

2. On 4 and 5 November, Office of Communications representatives attended the Fall '87 Symposium of the Security Affairs Support Association (SASA) held at the Defense Intelligence Agency Headquarters. SASA's President is John McMahon (former DDCI), and its board includes such notables as General Morrison (former DC/IC Staff), Evan Hineman (DDS&T), Bob Kohler (former D/OD&E), Jim Babcock (formerly with Defense Department/C<sup>3</sup>I and, earlier, OC/Engineering Division), and others. The symposium covered, at the SECRET level, U.S. Government and industry concerns regarding National Security, concentrating on industrial and personnel security.
